Updates to the 2017 cross-country skiing competitions calendar

Noutăți în calendarul concursurilor de schi-fond 2017

The winter of 2017 brought two novelties to the calendar of cross-country skiing competitions held in the organizing and participating mountain communes. The first novelty is the fact that two competitions took place successively on Saturday and Sunday. The second is that starting with this year, the group of organizing centers was extended to include a new locality - Măguri Bogdănești. The fact that in the last years snow has hardly persisted through the winter months required a concentration of competitions during the course of 4 weeks, instead of 6 weeks as was the case until now. The events of this year – 2017 – showed a qualitative improvement compared to those of previous years, both regarding the sports equipment of participants and the technical level of the organizing communes. Also, there was an increased interest from local authorities and school management in organizing and running these competitions under increasingly good conditions.

The winners of this year's events are as follows:
